

California Writers Club

Home . . . Membership . . . Events . . . Authors . . . History . . . Branches

Our Day in at the Capitol California Writers Week October 20-26, 2003

For several months, with the expert help of Anthony Folcarelli, the Central Board of the California Writers Club has been working to establish California Writers Week beginning Fall of this year.

On September 4 at 10 a.m., California Writers Club members gathered on the Assembly floor in Sacramento to receive a Joint Legislative Resolution from Assemblyman Tim Leslie. The Resolution is endorsed by the California Library Association.

California Writers Week is now officially October 20-26, 2003: We invite all California Writers Club members, and all authors and readers to celebrate with us.

CWC President Barbara Truax proudly accepted The Resolution on behalf of California Writers Club.

Check back as we unveil plans for events and celebrations around California.

Left: Barbara (holding Resolution) with Assemblyman Tim Leslie and Anne Marie Gold, member of the executive board of the California Library Association and head of the Sacramento Library.